

May I use my Medical FSA to Reimburse My Spouse's Medical Expenses, Even If He/She is Enrolled in A Different Health Insurance Plan?

Yes, the FSA does not require that your dependents be covered under your health insurance plan. You can use your account to pay for eligible health care expenses for your family, regardless of the health insurance plan in which they are enrolled.

---